Telephone Town Halls

You can invite thousands of people to join you on a live, interactive conference. You control the meeting including screening participant questions and asking survey questions – right from your own computer. Use the technology for fundraising – participants can press a number on their phone to be transferred to a live agent to make a contribution.

How Do Telephone Town Halls Work?

Our software sends customized automated phone messages to your target audience, allowing them to instantly join your live conference by simply pushing a button on their phone.

- Invitations are sent to thousands instantly
- Participants join the live Telephone Town Hall with the simple push of a button
- Participant questions are screened by your staff person for live Q & A
- Hosts are able to conduct real-time polling of all participants
- Conference activity is viewed and controlled by your staff via web interface
- Raise funds by allowing callers to press a number to talk to a live operator then be returned to the conference
- Hosts and staff members can communicate with each other privately, regardless of location, via the Town Hall chat room.
- Conference dialog is digitally recorded and saved to your account. Participant data including contact information, conference duration, and polling responses is instantly available for viewing and download.
